Senator Mayer Announces Senate Approval To State Commission

JEFFERSON CITY – Missouri Sen. Rob Mayer (R-Dexter) is pleased to announce the addition of Charles Adams, Jr., of Senath, as a member of the Hazardous Waste Management Commission.

The Hazardous Waste Management Commission works to ensure the proper management of hazardous waste, including generation, transportation, treatment, storage, and disposal.

Adams has been the general manager of Adams Fertilizer Inc. since 1985. He was also was an agricultural pilot for Senath Aviation from 1984 to 2006.

“Mr. Adams has a unique life experience in dealing with fertilizers and other farm necessities, from the field to management,” said Sen. Mayer. “He’s going to be a great addition to this commission and a real asset to our state.”

A list of all the governor’s boards and commissions can be found online at www.governor.mo.gov/boards.
